

Can unsuccessful applicants to the Community Revenue Fund in February apply to the Community Project Fund in May?

Yes, if an organisation applies to the Community Revenue Fund for 2021-22 and is unsuccessful, they can apply to the Community Project Fund for 2021-22.

Community Project Fund has two rounds for 2021-22, one in May and one in November. Note: Organisations cannot use the same application they submitted for Community Revenue Fund, they will need to submit a new application using the relevant form.

When an organisation is awarded funding, what monitoring and evaluation do you do?

Organisations will be monitored on agreed outcomes and outputs. These will be agreed at a set up meeting and based upon the information submitted in the application. Those in receipt of Community Revenue Funding will be required to submit quarterly updates (every three months) and a full monitoring report every six months alongside a visit to the organisation (or online meeting) with SADC officer.

Will most of your funding go to organisations you're already working with?

All previously funded organisations will need to submit a full application to the Community Revenue Fund 2021-22. All applications will be assessed on whether they meet the criteria and how well they support the priorities.

Should the budget show what my organisation does now, or what it would do if the money was awarded?

The budget should show how you intend to spend the grant if it is awarded.

If your organisation received money from the Community Grant Fund in 2020 - 21, are you still eligible for funding this year?

Yes, this fund is for financial year 2021-22. If an organisation has received funding for financial year 2020-21 (or previous years) they can apply for funding in 2020-21

Can I apply to more than one fund to put funding together for the same project?

Can I apply to more than one fund?

Organisations cannot submit applications to both Community Revenue Fund and Community Project Fund. If an organisation has applied to Community Revenue Fund they can apply to Response Capital Fund and are also eligible for Response Project Fund. See website for details.
