Rogue tree contractors

Don't get caught out

X Some trees have legal protection through a Tree Preservation Order (TPO) or Conservation Area designation to stop them being cut down or damaged.

You must get permission from the Council before TPO trees are pruned or felled. In the case of Conservation Area trees, 6 weeks written notice must be given before pruning or felling takes place.

Unfortunately there are rogue traders about who tout for work and often give poor advice to tree owners. These traders are often ignorant about protected trees. Willful damage could cost you dearly - the maximum fine is £20,000 per tree.

Reputable contractors can be found via the Arboricultural Association's website, www.trees.org.uk.

More information can be found at www.stalbans.gov.uk/treesandwoodlands. You can also use the Where You Live link from our homepage to check if a tree is protected.

Spic and span

X Here are some of the works undertaken recently to keep local facilities up to scratch.

In Verulamium Park, the popular splash park has been resurfaced to get it ready for this summer's fun-packed water play.

Nearby, damaged fencing at the tennis courts is to be replaced. We have done more silt removal at the lake and are introducing additional measures to help keep the water clean. Our current work with the Environment Agency is about finding long term solutions to the water quality issues there.

Elsewhere, work has begun to renew the playground at the Victoria Playing Fields in St Albans, with additional funding raised by local people. The Foxcroft playground will undergo a similar transformation later in the year.

In Harpenden, repairs to brickwork at Luton Road Bridge have now been completed.

Citizens Advice Wellbeing Clinic

X Making ends meet, health scares, reduced work hours or family breakdown can affect people's wellbeing. Citizens Advice (www.citizensadvice.org.uk) can help.

Their clinic is open on Tuesday afternoons at The Hub (see below) from 1 to 4pm. Friendly, trained advisers can help untangle frustrating bureaucracy, tackle debt and lots more. Why not come along?

Civic Centre – a hub for info and advice

X Information, advice and guidance is on offer from these local organisations at the Civic Centre in St Albans (next door to the Alban Arena). See www.stalbanshub.org.uk for details of each organisation's opening times.

Sign up for Neighbourhood Watch Online

Over 100,000 Hertfordshire residents regularly receive messages about crime prevention, missing people and security advice thanks to the award winning Online Watch Link (OWL). See www.hertswatch.com for details of how to sign up.

Modern slavery

Modern slavery is a serious crime where people are exploited, abused and treated as a commodity. It encompasses slavery, servitude and forced or compulsory labour and human trafficking. If you are concerned about someone, or something you've seen, the modern slavery helpline number is 08000 121 700 (free from landlines and most mobile networks). Or see www.modernslavery.co.uk or www.salvationarmy.org.uk/human-trafficking.

Do it online!

You can do lots of your Council business on our website.

Report a missed recycling collection, pay a bill, or tell us you've moved house, all from the comfort of your home, night or day. You can also sign up for your online Council Tax account, request Council property repairs, apply for Benefits, get parking permits and lots more. Just go to www.stalbans.gov.uk.

Do your bit for air quality

Air pollution from vehicles, although invisible, affects everyone's health, especially children's. Running your engine while stationary releases more pollution than a moving vehicle.

That's why we are asking local people to please turn your engine off when you are stationary for more than one minute. Studies confirm that switching off reduces fuel costs and emissions and improves air quality and health.

We are looking for volunteers to help raise awareness about this important matter locally. Please visit www.stalbans.gov.uk/anti-idling for details.

GREEN ISSUES

New woodland path opens

 A new woodland footpath has been created in a scenic part of Harpenden, linking Crabtree Fields car park with the Lea Valley Walk.

10th Harpenden Scouts, who have their hut near the route, came up with the idea and have taken on responsibility for the path's upkeep. It has been paid for with a £5,000 grant from the Fields in Trust charity, plus money contributed by property developers for local amenities and infrastructure. Check it out!

Grass verges and weeds – reporting

 Hertfordshire County Council cuts the grass verges in St Albans District. It also does everything highways-related including repairing potholes, and weeding pavements. There is a handy reporting tool on their website, so you can keep track of what's happening if you report an issue. See www.hertfordshire.gov.uk/faultreporting.

On target for 60% recycling rate

 Last year, we introduced big changes to the way you recycle. This is to make sure as much of your waste as possible is recycled or composted.

We're proud to say that you've made it a big success by using your recycling bins and boxes, and your food waste caddy. With your help we think we can do even more! Please recycle as much as possible and be sure to put the right things in the right bin! If in doubt about food waste – it can all go in your food caddy.

August bank holiday collections

 Collections will be one day later than usual during August bank holiday week. Monday's collections will be on Tuesday, Tuesday's on Wednesday, and so on. Crews will work on Saturday 2 September to catch up.

Fixed penalty notices and fly-tipping

X The Council has new powers to issue £400 fixed penalty notice fines for smaller scale fly-tipping offences. In the past, councils have found it difficult to take action in Magistrates Courts to tackle smaller scale fly-tipping. Such crime costs local tax-payers thousands of pounds each year. It also angers law-abiding residents greatly. We're determined to do what we can to stop those who do it.

Fixed Penalty Notices can also be used to fine people using the services of a contractor who is not a licensed waste carrier. So if you are tempted by a man-in-a-van offering cheap disposal of your rubbish, think twice. It's your responsibility to check they are licensed. You can do so at www.gov.uk (search 'waste carrier').

What happens to your garden waste?

X Veolia, the Council's street cleaning, recycling and waste collection contractor, operates twelve composting sites where green waste from across the UK is processed. The composted green waste is made into Pro-Grow soil and lawn conditioner, an environmentally friendly alternative to peat-based garden products and imported chemical fertilisers. Pro-Grow is used in landscaping, agriculture and gardening (see www.pro-grow.com for details).

Recycling your food waste just got easier

X You no longer have to use compostable liners in your food caddy due to the way food waste is now treated – through anaerobic digestion.

Once the food waste reaches the recycling site, all wrappings now have to be removed, whether they are recyclable or not. The team at the Agrivert site near Colney Heath use big hooks to take the bags out. This means it no longer matters what sort of liners you use. You can continue using biodegradable ones, or switch to bin liners (not black!), carrier bags, bread bags, or paper wrappings. Food can even be put into the caddy loose if you prefer. Food waste presented in caddies in any of these wrappings will now be collected as part of the weekly service.

New technology in use

X Our waste and recycling crews have special vehicle technology that records their progress as they complete their collection rounds. The smart technology feeds live data back to Veolia's customer contact centre in St Albans.

The crews record information such as bins not presented for collection, contaminated containers and excess waste. The contact centre staff use the information to help respond to customer queries. For example they use it to explain why contaminated recycling was not collected, or to make decisions about whether to instruct crews to return for missed bins.

Collect your commode, sir?

 Hertfordshire Equipment Service loans out more than 70,000 items such as mobile hoists, bathing equipment, beds, toilet frames, and commodes each year. But around a quarter are never returned, adding £2 million to council and healthcare budgets.

Equipment has been found languishing in cupboards, or being put to other uses – including a commode being re-used as a fancy plant pot!

If you, or a relative, have equipment to return, they will come and collect it. Just email hes.collection@hertfordshire.gov.uk, or call 01707 292555.
